Companies connecting with international spouses - an untapped talent pool

April 2016

Why IDCN from a Corporate Perspective?

"IDCN is a great initiative, because it's for spouses and it's driven by spouses! IDCN offers through its many career events, the opportunity to get a business network in Denmark. It also gives the possibility to create a social network with other spouses. Therefore, I believe that IDCN is a very good supplement to our Dual Career Services here at UCPH!"

Lisbeth Møller - Director of HR, University of Copenhagen

"For any company which hires international talent, IDCN is an excellent platform to engage with qualified job seekers. In addition, it is a significant value proposition for the international workforce already employed at the company."

Zsuzsa Laszlo - HR Officer, Glycom A/S

Copenhagen Launch: An outstanding success!

With five founding companies and an active partner committee in place, the Copenhagen chapter of the IDCN was launched on 16th March at International House, Copenhagen to a resounding success.

Twenty-five companies attended the launch, and so far four have signed up to the Network. More are expected to join in the coming weeks. The support for IDCN in Copenhagen is phenomenal!

The capital area of Denmark is the home base for several cutting-edge Danish multinational companies and universities, all of them large-scale employers of international professionals. There is an untapped talent pool of accompanying spouses and partners. In order to facilitate the job search of these spouses five major regional employers of qualified international workforce - Technical University of Denmark, Novo Nordisk, Mærsk, University of Copenhagen and Vestas - have recently agreed on establishing the Copenhagen chapter of the IDCN.

The Company Launch featured presentations of the IDCN Copenhagen Steering Committee, Partner Committee, Leif Fenger

Jensen Corporate Vice President of Novo Nordisk and Marian Chiraches IDCN Global Program Director. The program concluded with a reception giving participants an excellent opportunity to network and socialize.

There is sufficient interest for a second Danish chapter in Jutland, which will be launched later this year.

What the launch brought to the partners: "I am delighted to be working with IDCN. It allows me to put my skills to use. I am working with a great team of people as well as expanding my professional network. It gives me the confidence to explore new opportunities."
